

A Meaningful Camp

1B Tam Siu Chung

It is the last day of the Form One Discipline Training Camp. I wanted to go back home and leave this primitive place, so that I could drink anything I like and play the computer games too! But now I feel a little bit sad to leave here. The camp makes me think about the last camp in my primary school. This camp was at Sai Kung Bradbury Camp and it started on 2nd October, 2007. All S1 students and teachers were there.

We did many things in the camp that are useful for our life. We learnt to team-up in many games. In one of the games, we needed to carry our classmates over a tree. We could finish the game only if we helped each other and didn't give up.

The next unforgettable activity was the Night Walk. I was the last one in my team and I was scared because I thought there was something behind me! But I am the kind of person that never gives up. At last, we arrived at the place that made me feel safe. People always say we can see many bright stars in the hills and I could see many bright stars in Sai Kung. This was the first time that I had seen so many stars. The sky was just like a beautiful picture.

We did and learnt many useful things on this meaningful camp. I hope that we won't forget these things in the future. There are some skills that are very useful for our lives.
