

My Encounter with Andy Lau

Let me share with you something really fantastic! I attended Andy Lau's birthday party organized by our fan club last night in the Hilton Hotel.

The night was really fascinating. I went there at about six o'clock and it was already very crowded with all of the people dressed smartly. Also, many of them started dancing with their partners. Fabulous singing filled the air. There was the super star standing on the stage! Andy Lau! He was wearing a simple T-shirt, but he looked so good. His enchanting songs easily touched the audience's hearts. All of us closed our eyes and enjoyed his wonderful songs. Suddenly he stopped singing. Then we all concentrated on what he said. He said that he felt extremely grateful for our unlimited support. His speech was so touching and some of the fans started crying loudly. Like others, I couldn't control myself but cried too, because I was incredibly touched.

After a few minutes, most of the fans stopped crying. Happiness lit up their faces rapidly. Some fans walked towards Andy Lau and gave him birthday gifts. Then we had a lucky draw and some quiz shows. It was a superb party and everyone enjoyed it very much. The party ended with a happy ending.
